Chapter 3

My diary

He climbed a tree on his first day of the island because he was afraid of wild animals. All he had was a knife, a pipe and some tobacco. He didn't sleep well because he was afraid. In the morning, he saw a part of their ship and he swam out to it and climbed on board. There was no one, but he took guns , gunpowder , some bread , sugar and flour. He made small raft from broken pieces of wood to bring these things to the island.

He made a tent from one of the ship's sails and hid the food and gun powder in a small cave. He found a pen and paper on the ship and began to write his diary. On January 1st he found a small brown dog with dark eyes and friendly face. He called him poll and he wanted to teach him how to hunt.

Chapter 4

A new friend

There is no one on the island , no medicine , so it is easy to die here, “I learnt new things all the time” He began to start his vegetable garden in February because it rained in March and April , also he made plates and cups from wood or coconut shells. The biggest problem was that he wanted to talk to someone . One day, he and poll went for a walk through the forest and he found a parrot. It was a small green parrot with yellow feathers on the top of its head. It was singing around his head and talking also. Robinson taught it several words. He made a small boat from a tree but the sea was very dangerous, so he stayed close to the sea. He found many beaches and many kinds of fruits with the boat. One day he saw footprints on the sand.
